Ordinary Time

Fifth Sunday

Jesus, The Giver of Hope

Jesus knows the misery of human life, because he is one of us. However, suffering can no longer be interpreted as a direct punishment from God for sins committed as it was commonly believed at the time. The miracles that Jesus worked, freeing the man of unclean spirit, the healing of Simon's mother-in-law, and the generalized summary of miracles at sundown are preliminary acts of healing that foreshadow the greatest act of healing miracle, the death and resurrection of Christ. It is in this miracle that we partake at every Eucharist. In this miracle Jesus continues to heal the broken-hearted. Come and be healed.

Today's Bulletin is sponsored by Deana & Kenneth Bohuslav in thanksgiving to God on the occasion of their 35th Wedding Anniversary.

Flowers for the Altar this weekend are donated in memory of Larry Seifert by his family.

REFLECTION

In Today's first reading, Job complains to his friends that his days fly by faster than a weaver's shuttle. Think of the needle of a sewing machine racing up and down faster than the eye can see. This speed of Job's days is certainly echoed in what we hear about Jesus' activities in today's gospel reading. Jesus – moving from town to town, preaching the good news and casting out demons – is a bundle of energy in Mark. Within a few verses we find him healing “all who were wicked or possessed.” Indeed, “the whole city was gathered around the door” looking for his attention!

We find Jesus entering the house of Peter (Simon) and Andrew, and there is the mother of Peter's wife sick in bed with a fever. The interesting thing is not the cure, but that upon being healed, the mother-in-law immediately began to serve. (The original Greek word for her service is diakonein the same word that is the origin of the church's ministry of “deacon” today.) So, when we find gifts of God in our lives today, we give thanks to God knowing that the gift is not an end in itself but to be given back to God in service.

Next, we notice that Jesus' fame is beginning to spread like wildfire. It's not even the end of Chapter 1 of the Gospel of Mark and already everyone is looking for Jesus. Jesus wanted to keep his identity hidden: “He would not permit the demons to speak.” As our progress through the gospel continues through this liturgical year, we will discover that the more Jesus tries to keep his identity hidden, the more his fame and popularity with the crowds spread.

*Consider the many gifts you have received from God.
How have you used them in service of others?*

LENTEN FISH FRY

As part of our Lenten sacrifice we participate and support the Lenten Fish Fry. All proceeds from the Fry go to charity. Last year we served 2,149 plates for a profit of $11,810.57. A total of $9,264.01 was donated to charity in 2017: $7,000 of the proceeds were donated to hurricane victims in Dickinson, Friendswood, Houston, League City and Rockport. Other donations went to the Teen A.C.T.S.

Retreat, the sick of the community, bibles for Billy T. Cattan Recovery Outreach Center and various other charities. It is a way of reaching out in compassion and ministering to others.

Consider baking a cake(s) - we need at least 20 cakes for every fish fry, or making a monetary offering to support this noble cause. To help, fill out the form below and drop it in the collection basket or mail slot.
